16.5 CNB hours*

A rare opportunity for international trade professionals to get to grips with amicable dispute resolution techniques.

Objective

This training will meet the practical needs of those involved in international trade and will allow participants to learn the basics about different amicable dispute resolution techniques taking into account cross-cultural awareness and legal considerations. The participants will also have the opportunity to learn from experienced mediators, counsel and parties' representative, while simulating real mediation cases.

This programme can be credited towards training under the "taxe de formation professionnelle" in France (organization registered under 11 75 4089 275).

 This training has been sent for CNB approval.*

Amicable Dispute Resolution

Working methods

- Alternating working groups and plenary sessions,
- Working groups limited to roughly 6 participants,
- Simulation of real mediation cases with experienced mediators, counsel and parties' representative,
- Technical and practical presentations by international mediation experts,
- Debate amongst participants and speakers during interactive sessions.

Who is this training designed for?

People involved in international trade with little experience in ADR and who wish to increase their knowledge and practice in this field: legal directors, in-house counsel, practising lawyers, international negotiators, etc.
