

HEUSSEN: Employment & Corporate Law Practice Listed Among FOCUS Top Corporate Law Practices 2016

Oct. 10, 2016: HEUSSEN once again makes the list of Germany's top recommended corporate law firms in 2016, according to the results of the annual survey of market research company Statista for German news magazine FOCUS. This year, HEUSSEN was specifically chosen for its employment and corporate law practices.

The fact that HEUSSEN has been equally recommended by fellow lawyers and by clients puts this firm right in the ranking of the top 50 corporate law firms.

Employment law is one of the pillars of HEUSSEN's consulting services – 7 partners and 5 other qualified lawyers are active in this field at the firm's branch offices in Berlin, Frankfurt, Munich and Stuttgart, offering regular consulting services to predominantly mid-sized companies and their corporate bodies in both individual and collective employment law matters. One of their focal points in this regard comprises legal consulting and representation services for executives.

In corporate law matters, HEUSSEN has 14 partners and 5 other qualified lawyers at all of its branch offices, all of whom offer legal consulting services in matters ranging from business foundations and structuring to financing and M&A transactions, in addition to litigation services.

In both employment and corporate law matters, HEUSSEN furthermore offers competent legal advice surrounding the issue of "Industry 4.0". This is one issue that goes beyond the linking and extended automation of production and sales to involve new forms of cooperation, which, from a corporate perspective, raises whole new questions in terms of employment and IT/IP law, corporate and contractual law matters as well as corporate cooperation matters.

The survey by Statista involved asking a total of approx. 9,500 lawyers and 3,400 legal practitioners from the legal departments of leading companies about their knowledge and recommendations of legal professionals.
